Emerging Issues in Accounting

Human Resource Accounting

- Process of identifying and measuring data about human and communicating this information to interested parties
- Deals with investments in people and with economic those investments.

Need for HRA

- Change in production pattern, employment pattern and roles of governments, enterprises and individuals
- To improve human resource management
- To retain qualified human resource
- To focus on employee as an asset
- To create and improve the company image through proof HRA
- · To overcome the difficulties in traditional balance sheet
- · To attract future employees

Methods of valuation of Human Resource

- Historical cost method valued at unexpired portion of the recruiting, training and development
- Replacement cost method costs include the cost of retraining and development, the opportunity cost during the inperiod till the new recruitment attains the efficiency level employee.
- Standard cost method standard costs of recruiting, hiring and developing the employees are developed and established up to date every year.
- Present value represent the discounted value of the estimate net contributions of personnel to the earnings of the company
- Current Purchase Power method Historical cost of invention human resource is converted into current purchasing power with the help of index numbers
- Opportunity cost method value of an employee in his alter is determined
- Economic value method Present value of the firms future attributable to human resources will be the value of human re

Forensic Accounting

- Concerned with detection and prevention of financial is white-collar criminal activities
- Integration of accounting, auditing and investigative sk
- According to AICPA "Forensic accounting is the appliance accounting principles, theories and discipline to hypotheses at issues in a legal dispute and encompassion branch of accounting knowledge."

Uses of Forensic Accounting

- Fraud detection where employees commit fraud
- Criminal investigation
- · Cases relating to professional negligence
- · Arbitration service
- Settlement of Insurance claims
- Dispute settlement

Sustainability Reporting

- Report about an organizations environmental and social perfo
- Enables the organizations to be more transparent about the opportunities

Internal benefits of Sustainability Reporting

- Increased understanding of risks and opportunities
- Emphasizing the link between financial and non-financial per
- Influencing long term management strategy and policy to bus
- Streamlining processes, reducing costs and improving efficient
- Benchmarking and assessing sustainability performance with laws, norms, codes, performance standards and voluntary init
- Comparing performance internally and between organiza sectors

External benefits of sustainability reporting

- Mitigating negative environmental, social and goving impacts
- Improving reputation and brand loyalty
- Enabling external stakeholders to understand the orgative true value and tangible and intangible assets
- Demonstrating how the organisation influences, and is is by, expectations about sustainable development

Accounting Standards

Written documents issued by the regulatory bodies covering aspects of guidelines, treatment and disclosure of actransactions.

International Accounting Standards Board defines "to form publish, in the public interest, basic standards to be observed presentation of audited accounts and financial statements and to their worldwide acceptance and observance."

Objectives of Accounting Standards

- To harmonise the diverse accounting policies
- To eliminate variations in the treatment of several accounting
- To provide inference and guidelines on accounting standards
- To bring uniformity in the presentation of accounting aspects
- To facilitate inter-firm and intra-firm comparison
- · To make credibility, reliability and acceptability of accounting
- Useful in the preparation of financial statements
- To improve the transparency in financial statements
- To help in determining corporate accountability and meffectiveness

International Financial Reporting Standards (

- Original name International Accounting Standards (IAS)
- Common global language for business affairs so that accounts are understandable and comparable across into boarders
- Growing international share holding and trade and inter dealings with several countries have led to the growth of I
- IFRS are a set of international accounting standards statements and other events should be in financial statements.
- IFRS are issued by the International Accounting Standard
- The goal is to make international comparisons as easy as
- Syncronising accounting standards across the globe is an process in the international accounting community

Need for IFRS

- For the world wide acceptance of the accounting standa must be universally accepted
- A single system of financial reporting would benefit m
 - With quality standards, consistently applied, invunderstanding and confidence rises
 - That translates to strong, stable, liquid markets
 - Convergence of accounting standards has played a maj the growing acceptance of IFRS

Objectives of IFRS

- To develop in the public interest, a single set of high understandable, enforceable and globally accepted financial standards based upon clearly articulated principles
- To ensure high quality, transparent and comparable infor financial statements to help investors, and other users of information to make economic decisions
- To promote the use and rigorous application of those standard
- To promote and facilitate adoption of IFRS being the stan interpretations issued by the IASB
- To make common platform for better understanding of actinternationally
- Synchronisation of accounting standards across the globe
- To create, comparable, reliable, and transparent financial state
- · To facilitate greater cross-boarder capital raising and trade
- To have company wide one accounting language which has su in different countries