

1. Describe the contributions of Kent in developing homeopathy as a system.
2. Illustrate the methodology of case analysis and evaluation in homeopathy.
3. Discuss the utility of Materia Medica with examples, in clinical situation.
4. Explain the competencies required for case taking, case analysis and symptom analysis.
5. Discuss the procedure for creating drug portraits through synthesis of rubrics.
6. Explain importance of unprejudiced observation and documentation in the construction of repertories.
7. Explore the impact of technology on healthcare.
8. Elaborate on the principles of Health Education.
9. Justify need for formal training in educational methodology for homeopathy postgraduate scholars.
10. Differentiate between large and small group teaching methods.

* * * * *

www.FirstRanker.com