

1. Enumerate the common features of metal group. Describe the clinical utility of Cuprum met in both acute and Chronic conditions.
2. Compare and Contrast Sepia and Murex ladies.
3. Describe the indications of Sabal serrulata, Echinacea, Calendula and Cardus marinus mother tinctures.
4. Describe a typical Pulsatilla lady.
5. Compare and Contrast haemorrhages of Acetic acid, Phosphoric acid, Sulphuric acid and Nitric acid.
6. List the group characters of Pisces. Outline the menopausal complaints in Sepia.
7. Compare rectal affections of Alumina, Alumen, Cupr met and Bismuth.
8. Describe a typical Flouric acid Male.
9. Describe the clinical indications of Paeonia officinalis, Aspidosperma, Vinca minor and Oleander.
10. Describe the respiratory characteristics of Grindelia, Cina, Millefolium and Senecio.

* * * * *

www.FirstRanker.com